

Chinese Bible School Monthly Report — October

October holds joyful and commemorative meaning for many within the Chinese-speaking world. Some celebrate October 1, the National Day of the People's Republic of China, while others commemorate October 10, the National Day of the Republic of China. Regardless of geographical location or civic identity, those who have been baptized into Christ belong to a greater and everlasting kingdom. In Christ, we have received grace and become one body. Christ is our head, and we are His members, called to support, encourage, and build up one another. May we always take delight in being disciples of Christ, and may our daily lives bear His likeness and glory.

It is a privilege to share the progress of the ministry for this month. After several months of diligent preparation, the recording of all twenty-eight lessons on First Corinthians was completed in early October and all editing work was successfully completed within the same month. Both Traditional and Simplified Chinese versions of the video lessons are currently undergoing review by faithful brethren to ensure accurate text and smooth playback. We are deeply grateful for their dedicated effort. With God's help, we anticipate releasing the entire series online by the end of November, making it available to brethren everywhere for study and spiritual growth.

Our weekly Thursday Zoom Bible study continues steadily. To date, we have reached chapter ten of First Corinthians (lesson sixteen). Each week, approximately twenty brethren from mainland China, Malaysia, and Taiwan join with a sincere desire to learn God's word. We thank the Lord for their steadfast devotion, and we pray He strengthens them and remembers the earnestness of their hearts.

We would like to share a message of encouragement from an elder of a local congregation in Malaysia:

"It is a great and hard work done by bro William Chen and much good has resulted from this work as the resources can be used in daily personal study, home fellowship meetings and in study with friends. Some brethren whom I know also used it for their church weekly Bible class."

To God alone be the glory.

We extend heartfelt gratitude to each one of you for your prayers, encouragement, and support. Your partnership enables this ministry to continue advancing the gospel across regions, cultures, and generations. May the Lord remember your labor of love and abundantly bless your homes, your faith, and your service. Let us stand firm in the truth, shining the light of life among Chinese-speaking souls, until the day our Lord returns.
