We are thankful The Story of Jesus project keeps steadily moving forward. Since uploading video lessons 11-16 onto the Chinese Bible School website at the end of August, we have finished writing another six manuscripts for video lessons 17-22 on Jesus' ministry in Galilee, the first parables of Jesus, the first commission of twelve apostles, and the death of John the Baptist. Proofreading these manuscripts and creating the onscreen graphics is ongoing. Many thanks to the brethren who help with proofreading and providing the valuable input on lessons.

Next filming schedule on The Story of Jesus video lessons 17-24 will be in early to mid-November. Hopefully, these videos will be uploaded onto the Chinese Bible School website for public viewing by the end of the year.

I am grateful for the opportunity of conducting online Bible studies via Tencent QQ voice chat. The lessons on The Old Testament Prophecy were started on August 30 and continued on September. Forty to fifty students from Taiwan, mainland China, Malaysia, and United States have joined us for this weekly Bible study. The audio recordings and lesson outlines were also uploaded to the study group so those who missed classes were able to listen and study afterward. I am so impressed to learn that some of the brethren were gathering together to attend the online class and discuss answers for the questions on the lesson outline sheet afterward. May God bless their hearts in searching for the truth.

I would like to share important news from China that will heavily impact the people in mainland China for learning God's word. The Chinese government issued a "Draft Regulations for the Administration of Internet Religious Information" on September 10. It states that unless an official license is issued, no individual or organization in China's websites is allowed to publish any information about religion, including texts, pictures, voices, and videos, etc. It would tremendously limit the circulation of biblical materials in China.

It is true that "Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted." (2 Timothy 3:12) However, we believe God will provide a way to escape. We will continue to do what we can to bring the gospel of Christ to every corner of Chinese territory.

We know God will continue keeping the door open for evangelism to Chinese-speaking people not only in mainland China but also around the world!

The Chinese videos from WVBS at YouTube reached almost 1,000 views per day in September.
